Political Meeting at Hamilton.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette. HAMILTON, VA., April 3, 1876.-Pursuant to call the Republicans of Loudoun to the number of six, by actual count, met on Saturday, the 1st inst, in Academy Hall, at this place, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the Lynchburg Convention. The audience consisted of six Democrats, including reporters. The committee of arrangements had failed to provide for the comfort of those assembled, consequently we gathered in a bare room without fire, yet in spite of all drawbacks there was great u sanimity. A seat was provided for the chairman by placing an old trunk on the teacher's platform, while the Secretary occupied the platform at his feet. The reporter for the "Enterprise" had a seat on the floor with a piece of board on his knee for a desk. Our district schoolmaster (Dem.) had a seat on an old flour barrel, while the rest were variously distributed, resting against posts, on doorsteps and window

On motion of Col. Wm. F. Mercier, Hugh R. Holmes was called to the chair, and Theodore Gaver, of Hil'sboro', was chosen Secretary. The Chairman stated the object of the meeting to be the selecting of delegates to the Lynchburg Convention, and the organizing of the party for the Presidential canvass. Col. Mercier then took the floor, and in a short speech showed to the satisfaction of all present, that as the call had been properly circulated, the meeting was just as competent to attend to the interest of the Republican party as though there were five hundred present. He therefore moved that the meeting proceed to the election of delegates, which motion was unant mously carried.

Wm. Brown and Col. Mercier were then elected delegates with Col. S. E. Chamberlain and Ed. Nichols as alternates.

The chairman suggesting that it was not necessary that they be residents-which remark we suppose was meant to apply to Col. S .- the vote on the selection of delegates was unani-

The meeting then, on motion of Col. Mercier, proceeded to name the executive committee, but as a great many of the names were strange to us we did not take them down, as we thought probably they were acting on the suggestion of the chairman that it was not necessary they be residents.

On motion of Col. Mercier the executive committee were empowered with authority to increase their number at discretion.

On motion of Col. Mercier the chairman of this meeting was instructed to convene the executive committee immediately after the adjournment of the Cincinnati convention. Here some debate ensued between the chairman and Col. Mercier in regard to instructing the delegates, when, on motion of Col. Mercier, the matter was settled by the unanimous adortion of the following resolution: Resolved. That the comination of James G.

Blatue for President of the United States by the Cincipnati convention will meet the approval of the Republicans of Loudoun. On motion of Col. Mercier the meeting ad-

A Visit to York River and West Point. A few days ago, white visiting Washington. I perchanced to meet an old and much . steemed friend, whose hand I had not clasped for nearly twenty years. The meeting was not only cordial, but resulted in a promise that I should accompany him to Baltimore, and from thence, by the noble steamer Havana. Capt. A. C. Nickle, to West Point, at the head of York river. It was also stipulated that everything the outer and inner man could wish should be furnished "free gratis for nothing" -namely, fare, stateroom, cigars, 'grub,' consisting of baked shad, boiled rock, oysters fried, scalloped, roasted, stewed, on the shell, clam soup, chowder, to which, to give variety, should be added four kinds of meat, lamb, ram, sheep, and mutton. The temptation was irresistible. I weot, saw, and made a "note" of the country, fine scenery, and the superior advantages of York river and West Point, commercially speaking. It is within bounds to say that there is not an inland river between N w Y rk and Florida that offers to foreign and domestic commerce the advantages which York river offers. It is within bounds to say that a large vessel, drawing from 18 to 25 feet of water, can make three trips from New York, D.F. WITMER'S or any other Atlantic port, in less time than the same vessel could make two trips to Richmond, Baltimore, or Alexandria! It is within bounds to say that freight and p ssengers can be carried not only one third quicker from New York to Virginia, but one-third cheaper. 3-Ply Ingrain Hemp Carpets, Furthermore, passengers and freight reaching West Peint by steamers from the ocean and Chesapeake bay secure the best railroad facilities that can be found in Virginia for general

If the reader will take the trouble to examine a map of Virginia, he will see at a glauce that a perfect straight line can be drawn from the ocean between Cape Charles and Cape Henry to West Point at the head of York River, and that the distance will not exceed seventy miles. From the ocean to the mouth of James River it is about 15 miles; from the mouth to City Point, the head of ship navigation, 78 miles; from City Point to Richmond, up a crooked, narrow, and shallow stream, 50 miles; total, 143 miles, 73 miles in tavor of the York River route, and up a straight and wide river, and deep enough for a vessel of 25 feet draught. Such are the advantages which York river and West Point offer to commerce over the James and Richmond, yet how indiff rently the commercial world realize and improve the quick and cheap tacilities of this noble river.

West Point, at no distant day, is bound to became a first class commercial port. Rich mond, with its immense capital and influence, may oppose its developement; and the man agers of the Chesapeake and Onio Railroad may shut their eyes to the fact that West Virginia coal, iron, and timber could be carried to Now York city six days quicker, and one dollar a ton cheaper by the York River route than the count, Interest Tables, Ec., for sale cheap by the York River route than by the way of Richmond. NATURE and COM-MON SENSE will speedily conquor all such foolist and expensive opposition. Commerce never
